The golden rules to beat fraudsters

- Be suspicious of all 'too good to be true' offers and deals.
- Don't agree to offers and deals immediately. Take time to get independent/legal advice.
- Don't handover money or sign anything until you have checked the credentials of the company/individual.
- Never give banking or personal information to people you don't know or trust.
- Always log on websites directly, rather than clicking on links provided in emails.
- Don't rely on glowing testimonials; find independent advice.
- Always get independent, legal advice if an offer involves money.
- Report a scam to Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040 or online, actionfraud.police.uk. Contact police if the suspect is known and still in the area. Don't be embarrassed to report a scam; criminals are cunning and there is no shame in being deceived.

We look forward to welcoming you at our free event.

Want to know more about protecting yourself against fraudsters?

Join police officers from the London Borough of Richmond and detectives from the Met cyber crime unit at our free event dedicated to you, the community we protect.

We will provide crime prevention advice on fraud and tips on how to protect yourself, your property and your savings.

Where: Twickenham Stadium
When: Saturday 10 March 2018
Time: 10:00–14:00

METROPOLITAN POLICE

Police officers in Richmond have become aware of a number of scams which have affected our local community.

We have organised a crime and fraud prevention event to share with you our top tips and explain some of the most common frauds.

The event will focus on elderly and vulnerable people being targeted by fraudsters for their money and property.

Commissioner Cressida Dick will be present at the event as well as a number of speakers who will provide their insight into fraud, including Metropolitan Police detectives from FALCON (fraud and linked crime online) and TV presenter Gloria Hunniford.

We hope that you will join us and we look forward to seeing you soon.

Police Sergeant Les Jackson
Crime Prevention Officer
London Borough of Richmond
